Construction Notebook News continues to be the premier construction trade publication in print since 1953 and on line since 1999. We house a state of the art virtual plan room, legal newspaper and construction document center covering Nevada, Arizona, parts of Utah and California. "The Notebook" has a weekly circulation of about 1,500 subscribers including general contractors, subcontractors, architects, engineers, manufacturers, equipment dealers, suppliers, public agencies, school boards, banks, investors, attorneys, real estate and other community-interested businesses and individuals throughout the Southwest. The reading public reaches thousands of people weekly both through our printed publication and our web site, ConstructionNotebook.com.

At the Notebook we actively research and report on hundreds of projects from the design concept stage to projects currently out for bid. All news is updated in real time, accuracy checked, and followed through to the bid result phase.

The print version of Construction Notebook averages 160 pages. At present we distribute 75,000 publications annually. Our on line version is viewed by thousands of subscribers daily. We report on projects in the PRE-BID phase and projects looking for GENERAL and SUB-BID CONTRACTORS, including PLAN HOLDERS LISTS, ADDENDA, BID DATE CHANGES AND BID RESULTS.

Our Nevada construction LEGAL NEWS reports BUILDING PERMITS for all of Southern Nevada, CONTRACTORS BOARD LICENSE information, MECHANICS LIENS, LIEN RELEASES, NOTICES OF COMPLETION, BUSINESS LICENSES, STATE AND FEDERAL TAX LIENS AND RELEASES AND BANKRUPTCIES.

Our offices are centrally located in Las Vegas near Interstate 15 and Sahara Avenue at 3131 Meade Avenue. Construction Notebook is an area distributor of American Institute of Architects (AIA) construction contract documents, RS Means Books and various construction forms. We also house a library of construction related periodicals and reference books. We maintain a comfortable plan room for our subscribers to do take-offs and estimating work, free Wi-Fi, public use computer access and a friendly staff for assistance.
